

Star Bound Stage, Screen, and Recording Artist Nina Josephs Named to Play Aubrey Blaze in StereoVision and Baywatch Creator Michael Berk's 3D Sci Fi Feature Film and Video Game Series 'Aubrey Blaze'

HOLLYWOOD, CA. (Marketwire:4/24/2013) Stereo Vision Entertainment Inc. (OTC:SVSN) announced today that stage, screen, and recording artist Nina Josephs has been named to play Aubrey Blaze in their 3D Sci Fi feature film and video game series 'Aubrey Blaze', as written by Baywatch creator Michael Berk. (<http://www.imdb.com/name/nm3979184/>)

"Nina's the perfect pick to play Aubrey Blaze" said Stereo Vision's CEO Jack Honour. "Nina's a consummate performer, <http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=bZixvTkQPkg> and with Aubrey Blaze being a super talented opera singer that goes rogue, with one never knowing if she's real or just an illusion, this film and video game series brings a new player to the female empowerment super hero arena. With her superb conditioning from 15 years in ballet, her formal education in opera and theatre, and her journeyman acting skills, this role is right up Nina's alley. Michael Berk has shown time and again that he has a special talent for finding actresses with that extra sparkle that's key in star making. With a litany of super stars to his credit like Pamela Anderson, Carmen Electra, Gena Lee Nolin, and Jenny McCarthy, the odds that Nina Josephs and Aubrey Blaze will find great success are very good."
