

Eco Allies Launches SuperGreenTree™ Pilot Project with International Environmentalist Trammell Crow on His 10k Acre Farm in East Texas

Dallas (10/18/22) Eco Allies, a StereoVision subsidiary, announced today that it has launched a SuperGreenTrees™ pilot project with Trammell Crow.

“Trammell is my Environmental Sherpa,” stated Eco Allies Founder and Co-CEO Jack Honour. “He showed me how we could actually be the change we wanted to see. That guidance has led us to develop climate change mitigation projects on four continents so far, including Africa, South America, Europe, and North America. As with his launch of the new global broadcast network EarthX TV <https://www.earthxtv.com/>. Trammell’s partnering with us and our J/V partner BioChar Now <http://biocharnow.com> in our pilot project to grow our SuperGreenTrees™ (<https://www.stereovision.com/pdf/EA-CC-SuperGreenTree-Overview.pdf>) on his 10,000 acre farm in East Texas, is an example of his determination to be a visionary for change and a Boots-on-the-ground leader for change. In 2021 Eco Allies and Climate Cure Capital presented at Trammell’s EarthX in Dallas. There we found a variety of like-minded people in the effort including bankers and institutional investors interested in supporting climate change mitigation. As CEO of a publicly reporting company, generating revenue for the shareholders is key so having bankers like Blackrock and HSBC backing ESG is a very exciting aspect for us as well. <https://www.marketwatch.com/story/worlds-largest-asset-manager-blackrock-joins-41-trillion-climate-change-investing-pact-2020-01-09> EarthX Half-Day is from 10/20/22 to 10/22/22. Eco Allies and Climate Cure Capital will again be attending EarthX in Dallas in 2023. It runs from 4/19 to 4/22. Come join the movement!” <https://www.earthx.com/>
